

Dear Mr/Ms,

Thank you for considering my application. I've been looking for an opportunity to make a career switch to journalism for quite some time now. And your publication is clearly standing out from the crowd in my eyes.

I have a very extensive background in marketing and content creation. My work experience provided me with solid writing and research skills and a deep understanding of marketing strategies and content promotion techniques. I also study German in my free time and work as a part-time interpreter. These skills give me a great advantage, even considering I have little to no experience in this field.

I feel like your company is a perfect fit for me because I share the values of transparency and ethical journalism. I need to make sure my work is valuable to my community. And I feel like searching for the truth and bringing it to people is the perfect option for someone with my skill set. I am sure I have enough related experience and motivation to quickly deal with any task the publication might have for me.

Thank you for your consideration,

Best regards,
